OVERNIGHT PIPE WORKS IN SEBERANG PRAI TOMORROW POSTPONED FOR ONE WEEK DUE TO FLOODS

- NO overnight scheduled water supply interruption in Seberang Prai Utara and Butterworth tomorrow (Sunday, 17/9/2017).
- PBAPP will sustain normal water supply in Penang over this weekend to support flood recovery efforts.
- Scheduled water interruption postponed to:
10.00pm on Saturday, 23/9/2017 - 10.00am on Sunday, 24/9/2017.

PENANG, Saturday (16/9/2017): Tomorrow's 12-hour scheduled water supply interruption in Seberang Prai Utara (SPU) and Butterworth has been postponed due to the floods in Penang on Friday, 15/9/2017.

Instead, Penang Chief Minister YAB Tuan Lim Guan Eng has directed Perbadanan Bekalan Air Pulau Pinang Sdn Bhd (PBAPP) to sustain normal water supply throughout Penang in support of flood recovery efforts.

PBAPP will comply with this directive as we understand that people and businesses will need water supply to clean their properties following the floods and landslides.

As such, the overnight scheduled water supply interruption to enable the installation of a pressure reducing valve (PRV) at Jalan Pekan Darat has been postponed to:

- 10.00pm on Saturday, 23/9/2017 – 10.00am on Sunday, 24/9/2017.

The “no water supply” and “low water pressure” areas affected will be the same as originally announced.

PBAPP will remind the affected residents to store water for the duration of the re-scheduled water supply interruption next week via notice advertisements, as per our normal practice. We will also post an update on www.pbapp.com.my.

PBAPP deeply regrets any inconvenience caused. However, please note that this postponement is necessary due to unfortunate circumstances.

Thank You.
